Little Nutbrown Hare
and Big Nutbrown Hare went out in the winter snow.

They played I Spy as they hopped through the snow.
Little Nutbrown Hare
looked around until he saw something interesting.

“I spy something that belongs to a tree,” he said.

Big Nutbrown Hare
did some thinking about trees.

“Could it be a leaf?”

It was the right answer!

Now it was Big Nutbrown
Hare's turn to look around him.

"I spy something that belongs to a spider."

"A web!" said Little Nutbrown Hare.

Yes! A web was the answer.

“I spy something that belongs to a bird,” said
Little Nutbrown
Hare.

Big Nutbrown
Hare thought about birds for a while.

Then he said, "Could it be a feather?"

Yes! It was a feather.

“This time,” said

Big Nutbrown Hare, “I spy something that belongs to the river. And it’s wet, wet, wet.”

“Water!” cried Little Nutbrown Hare.

Water was the answer.

Little Nutbrown Hare began to laugh.

I've got a good one, he thought.

"I spy something that belongs to me."

Big Nutbrown Hare was puzzled.

"Can I have a clue?" he said.

"It's only there when the sun comes out."

“Your shadow!” said
Big Nutbrown
Hare.

Then Big Nutbrown Hare said,
“I spy something that belongs to me
and it’s not my shadow.”

This was a really tricky one.
Little Nutbrown Hare did some thinking, and then he said,
“Can I have a clue?”

It’s my most favourite thing...

And it can hop.”

“Me!”

Little Nutbrown Hare loves playing games in the winter snow – but is he clever enough to trick Big Nutbrown Hare?

From the creators of Guess How Much I Love You come four enchanting new stories perfect for sharing with your very own Little Nutbrown Hare.
